I have no idea. Reading the article it looks like someone used data obtained through a foil request.

These are basically NYSDEC sites and I know NY has a few people really good on GIS. Kudos if can let me know who worked on this. Diana Cutt at EPA is our "science" contact and is interested in follow-up. A good communications tool.

Hi Rob - fyi. The GIS story map for Navy/Bethpage, in the link below, is very good. Do you have any idea on who may have prepared it?

Were you guys aware of this project – Fulton Ave and Northrup Grumman are featured. Just curious who put this together? Any leads would be appreciated. Thanks!

Hi there- I'm looking into sites/projects where EPA has used a GIS application called Story Map. Have you seen this one? Not sure who put it together:

If you know of any others would love to hear about them. I think it's a great tool to communicate data.
